SMOTHERED WIFE WITH A PILLOW

Indiana Woman Reveals Awful Crime Committed by Her Son.

BRUTE BEATS MOTHER, AND SHE TELLS STORY

Neighbors Suspected Foul Play; Quieted by Husband's Apparent Grief.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.-Suffering from beatings he has given her, Mrs. Mary Wilhelm made a confession to the officials of Lake county, Ind., in which she charges her son, Adolph C. Wilhelm, with having smothered his wife to death with a pillow a year ago. Mrs. Wilhelm's life was insured for $1000. Mrs. Mary Wilhelm and her son lived on a farm near Hobart, Ind.

Bail Is Denied Wilhelm.

Wilhelm whe was arrested Wednesday night is now in the Hammond (Ind.) Jail, and bail is denied him until the authorities can sift the evidence against him. He is a giant ir size and has the reputation of being a man of extremely violent temper and ugly disposition.

At the time of his wife's death neighbors suspected that something was wrong, but their fears were quieted by Wilhelm's demonstrations of grief at the grave of his dead wife.

His wife was reported to have been found dead in bed beside her husband about a year ago. Dr. George Hoskins of Whiting, Coroner for Lake county, held an inquest over the body and returned a verdict of heart disease.

The woman was only 25 years old and

The woman was only h years old and was strong and healthy, and no one had known her to be subject to the disease.

Husband Collected Insurance.

Four months prior to her death she had taken out an insurance policy in the order of the Ladies of the Maccabees for $1000 in favor of her husband. He collected the money without any question being raised. Last Wednesday night Wilhelm and his mother, who is $69 years old, quarreled, and he beat her mercilessly with his fists. Neighbors heard her screams and his curses, but knowing the man's reputation for violence, no one had the courage to go to the assistance of the helpless woman.

No One Dared Help.

Some one rode to Hammond and notified the police. Sergeant Lou Debow and Constable Henry Burge started for the Wilhelm farm. They did not arrive until midnight. They had been warned that it was a bad man with whom they had to deal, but the farmer made no resistance. The prisoner was taken to Hammond, where affidavits charging him with assault and battery with intent to kill were sworn out before Judge W. W. McMahon by Prosecuting Attorney David E. #### SEDDON EXPLAINS

Why Street Sprinklers Are Run on State Street.

State Street.

Street Supervisor Seddon said yesterday that his reason for keeping the street sprinkler going on State street was because of the new macadam on that thoroughfare, which had not been sufficiently rolled. The driver had been instructed to also sprinkle as much of Main and West Temple streets as possible during his spare time. This, he declared, was his only object in keeping the sprinkler going in that vicinity, while all the others had been called off.

RECORD CLASS IN

300 in Excess of Any Former Year.

The attendance of the first week at the high school as summed up last night by Prof. Eaton was 1610, or nearly 309 in exess of the attendance of any previous cear. On the first day of school there were 550 registered, and since then each lay has seen a big increase, until the record is broken beyond all expectations Of the number enrolled 400 belong to the reshman class, which raises the record of this class nearly a hundred.

No Overcrowding.

The great increase in the attendance, it was feared, would tax the accommoda lons of the school beyond its limit, but the converting of a number of unoccupied rooms into class and assembly rooms has solved the problem, and at present room could be made for a great number more. A few more are expected, but the enrollment is probably at its height.

Work Begins in Earnest. Classes are now all straightened out, and school work has begun in earnest. On Monday the new manual training department which has been installed in the basement of the Union school adjoining the high school will open its doors to all boys wishing a course in bench and wood work. Mr Samuel Doxey will do the instructing of this department, and the prospects are that a large number will take up the work.

Cadet Drill.

Cadet drill will be started on Monday under the supervision of Capt. Webb of the N. G. U., and will be compulsory to freshmen and sophomores. The cadet organization will consist of four large companies this year, and will hold drills three times a week.

Conference at Lafayette School This Morning.

CITY TEACHERS TO MEET

Morning.

The first weekly meeting of the city teachers will take place at the Lafayette school this morning at 19 o'clock. Rev. Elmer I. Goshen will deliver an address. Month of August.

Street Supervisor Seddon's report for the month of August shows that the expenditures of the two departments amounted to $595.58, and that the value of work done and material furnished to other departments was $150.50, leaving the total cost of the street and irrigation departments $555.52, and of the street department was $555.52, and of the irrigation department $285.63.

The cash poll tax collections during the month amounted to $54 and labor performed for poll tax amounted to $147, making the total receipts from poll taxes $253.5. The sprinkling of the streets during the month cost $455.10.

The department put in 116 new flumes, 16 stone cross walks and one new bridge, and repaired 125 flumes and 55 bridges during the month.

AUTO DRIVERS WARNED

Court Says Penalties Will Surely Follow High Speed.

"This is the last time that I shall be ienient in the case of conviction for exceeding the speed limit with autos," said Judge Diehl Friday, after Harry Ellott had pleaded guilty to driving his machine down a business street at about twenty-five miles per hour. Elliott explained that he was taking passengers to the Short Line train, and that he was instructed to hurry for fear he would be too late. The court suspended sentence, but took occasion to say that the next conviction would be followed by a severe penalty. pennity;

ARREST OF POPULATION Increase Smaller in Most States Than

Twenty Years Ago.

When the Iowa census this year showed a es in population of 15,000 in five years, from 900 to 1905, it was credited to the decrease in the farming population. Every city over 2000 in population had gained, the total being 17,669. In all the towns under 5900 population 71,000. In all the tewns under 1990 population each and the farming districts had less in five years some $1,000 in population. Minnesota proves by its census to have grown in five years but 25,000 credited wholly to the village and city population. In the last devade Minnesota gained one-third 25.7 per cent. In ten years in the past five years it has gained only at the rate of 15 per cent of 18 one year at the rate of 25 per cypt. The farming population has censed to grow.

But it is not only the farming population which suffers arrest. Massachusetts, which sumer than half city or fown over 509, has a disappointing return in its census for 1901. Taking the increase in the previous decade, a constraint of 25009. The actual increase is arely half this, 157.6[2].

licted of 213.000. The actual increase is sarely half this, 157.61.

The rate of increase, 6.9 fer cent, is half that for twenty years back. It was about the same, 1.9 per cent 187.1 to 1889, and 8.9 per cent, 1880 to 1855, but this is the only time it has ever been as low, and of the earlier decade, the first five years, 1873 to 1889, were years of great financial degression. The past five years have been years of overflowing prosperity. Yet the increase in population in Massachusetts drops one-half. The addition to population in five years ago in five years when the inhabitants of the State numbered only half as many as now.

This same arrest of population is in progress all over the country. No State is likely to show in this decade the increase of the past. Our national increase, which has been logging along at about 25 per cent in ten years, a about to make a drop to 12 to 15 per cent in the years, a little above the average of thriving European countries like Germany and European Countries like Germany and European Countries like Germany and Cur. birth rate is decreasing. The size of ing European countries like Germany and England.

Our birth rate is decreasing. The size of families is smaller. The weddings are as numerous. The christenings are fewer. Half the immigrants who rome over go back. Each year the proportion of those who return grows a little bigger.

Our population is fast coming to the European rate of increase. Into wealth grows. The amount paid out in wages increases. The average paid each worker grows. There is more confort, more house, more meat, more bread, more clothes and more shoes per person. If the increase of population shows an arrest the increase of wealth and its distribution yearly advance.—Philadelphia Press.

Prisoner Asks Leave to Reopen His Own Case.

Own Case.

"If you'll let me law my own case I'll beat anything that you want to put up against me!" exclaimed John J. Wyrick, a cocaine flend, who had received a sentence of thirty days for vagrancy before Judge Diehl Friday. The court there-upon granted a new trial and set the case for Saturday morning. When first arrested Wyrick appeared to be insane, but an examination as to his mental condition proved him to be a slave of the cocaine habit and the court imposed the sentence in the hope that the victim might be cured.

WATER CONTAMINATED

Stream Running Through Bingham in Insanitary Condition.

According to a report submitted by State Medical Inspector R. F. Woodward, the stream running through Bingham and from which the citizens receive their water supply in large measure is in a very insanitary condition. Draining into the streams were small ditches carrying refuse from sinks and saloons and it was found that a large proportion of the inhabitants of the town are ignorant of the requirements of health. Plans for a local sewer system are, however, being considered and the authorities are anxious to do what they can to improve the health conditions of the mining camp.

HALF DEER, HALF COW

Freak Animal Seen in Minnesota Said by Some to Have Horns.

A deer with a cow's tail is northern Minnesota's latest sensation. The animal is not so terrible to look at as was Cass lake's great nogag but it is more real. That it has a low's tail there is no doubt, for forty-five men
n an extra gang working on the new extension of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern read saw the mysterious appendage, and more than more.

Some of the more suspicious of the the mysterious appendage, and more than once.

Some of the more suspicious of the crew stourly maintain that the deer is a close relation of the deet and that it also has a cow's horis and cloven hoofs. This latter charge cannot be well denied, for the cloven hoof habit is one that all members of the ventson tribe are guilty of. There is some doubt about the cow's horns, however.

If the deer is a doe, it wouldn't have any horns at all and if it were a buck, it wouldn't have cow's horns, for a clinch. This line of argument was offered to bring the men in question to a reasonable frame of mind, but they gently reminded us that the male members of the cow family sport horns not unlike those of their gentle better halves. Be that as it may the unholy deer is there, and horns or no horns, it has a cow stall or, to follow the reasoning of the superstitious ones above quoted, the tail may be the vertebral extension of a buck. The consensus of opinion among those who saw the strange asimal is that it has no horns, and in this event cow's tail will probably come as near hitting it as anything else.

Several range people within the last few days have had something to say of the freak. They say it has been seen so many times, and by so many men, that there is no doubting the hall part of the shory. The animal seems to have inherited curtain domestic procificities along with its backg of civilization, for it has a strong hankering for the society of human beings. Or else for the catables furnished by human beings. Any way, it is never very far from the camp of the Missabe construction gang, and is seen almost daily hoth morning and evening. The tail is easily observed for whonever its owner is frightened the appendage is thrown straight up into the air, standing up two feet or more, like a flagpole, while the deer bounds away. The men are careful to see that no one shoots the animal, for they take a certain pride in it. Attempts are being made to photograph R, and it is even hoped that "may be captured alive.—Minneapolis
